Sailplane to the Stratosphere: Priceless Evening with Chief Pilot Jim Payne & Perlan Mission II, Minden NV on January 13, 2018

Buy-In Price: $250.00

Donated by: Perlan Mission II, Jim & Jackie Payne, Soaring NV

The Airbus Perlan Mission II will attempt what no glider - what no piloted aircraft - has ever achieved: sustained flight at 90,000 feet, far into the stratosphere and near the vacuum of space. Do we have your attention?

This once-in-a-lifetime experience will include:

- Dinner in the Soaring NV hanger of the Minden-Tahoe Airport!
- Walk around the actual 85-ft wingspan of Perlan II
- Sitting in the flight simulator to experience the detail and feel of flying in the stratosphere,
- Meeting with Chief Pilot Jim Payne who will describe the mission of Airbus Perlan II - a pressurized sailplane designed to ride air currents that can reach into the stratosphere.

Pilot Payne discusses the mission of the Airbus Perlan II, a pressurized sailplane designed to ride air currents that, in certain mountainous regions, can reach into the stratosphere. Payne, recently interviewed about the mission by CBS and was featured the cover of Air and Space Magazine, is one of the most accomplished glider pilots in the world, holds numerous world records, was awarded the highest award given by the FAI for gliding, is 6-time world champion of soaring's OnLine Contest and a member of the Soaring Hall of Fame.

Restrictions: Date is not flexible and seats cannot be refunded. Cockpit is not open for patron seating. Other restrictions may apply.
